

Chapter 1 A HOLE IN SPACE

The Planet Fluence It emerged from out of a huge black hole in the north quadrant of space, it was a tiny planet traveling through space like a comet, a planet called Fluence.

Suddenly; shouts rang out all across the darkened planet shouts of fear and awe as the inhabitants for the first time in millenniums entered a solar system with stars. Immediately; some of the most dreadful creatures on the planet gathered to discuss their fate. The first one that demanded to be heard was very large and powerful, his name was Ethyl, most of them became silent in honor of his presence, but not all. Ethyl began by speaking in a calm scholarly voice he appeared to possess great knowledge and understanding, but suddenly his demeanor changed he began screaming and cursing making no sense at all. "Ethyl" Steroid yelled, you're just a babbling lunatic, shut up." Now Ethyl never backed down from anyone regardless of the odds against him but knowing this was not the time for inner planetary conflict's

Tar yelled "Cannabis Do something! Cannabis began to sway back and forth again and again, giving off a unique vibration that began to tranquilize the crowd this but effect would only last a short time, because the creatures of Fluence developed immunities against each another's power. On Fluence every creature's name reflects either their unique ability or a distinct character trait, and they observed only one rule, the strong dominated the weak. Steroid yelled out "I am ready to go forth and to conquer new worlds. I will not be defeated nor denied my respect." Nothing less was expected from him, because not only was he one of the largest creatures on the planet, he had an ego that had no limits. As the creatures were arguing suddenly a fearful presence was felt and the lord Darkness ruler of Fluence appeared before them, he needed no introduction and he was extremely direct

"I want you to send a probe to spy out this new solar system and bring me back a report" he glared into a few eyes but none dare stare back into his, then he glanced out into space as if he saw something but he concluded his eyes were playing tricks on him because they were not use to the light, he grumbled and quickly vanished. The creatures started arguing again, not aware that

Havoc was standing behind them, he let out a loud growl and there was deadly silence, "Perhaps you must have misunderstood what you were told, shall I summon Lord Darkness back?" No lord Havoc exclaimed Cannabis that won't be necessary "Well then I suggest you get busy"

Havoc shouted before disappearing, the creatures agreed to put their differences aside and focus on their immediate crises.

On Fluence there was only one who possessed the ability to break away from the planets gravitational force, his name was Speed. When Speed arrived they all started blurting out Instructions, Ethyl yelled "you are to go as fast as you can and spy out the course we are traveling" Tar continued "quickly bring us back a report of what find, Cannabis added "Speed remember the fate of our species depends on you." Speed assured them that he wouldn't let them down, then he spread out his large wings and took off, he set his course towards the large star which appeared to be at the center of this new galaxy. Not long after Speed left Fluence he sensed that he was being watched, he stopped and looked around but he saw nothing. Speed suspected the eerie feelings he was having might have something to do with the faint streaks of light passing him by they appeared to emanate from the direction of the Star. Although the light was already becoming very uncomfortable for him, he had his orders so he pressed on. What Speed did not know was that he was indeed being watched. CHAPTER 2 CREATURES OF THE STAR Now Quasar was a creature who came from the far side of the star, his duty was to circle the solar system looking for anything out of the ordinary, Quasar saw many amazing things happening along his travels, like comets passing him by and at times he would race them for a while, of course he would always win, and galaxy's being formed, but the sighting of a new planet inhabited by an unknown species now that was important. Although Quasar was able to travel at the speed of light it would take him too long to get back to the star, so he closed his eyes and began to meditate, in his mind he focused on Gabriel the messenger of the star. Back on the Star Gabriel sensed the thoughts of Quasar and immediately appeared before him. Quasar my comrade, said Gabriel "peace be to you" and also to you Quasar replied. Now then why have you summoned me? Quasar answered Gabriel's question by pointing towards Fluence which could be seen in the distance moving towards them, "Wow!" Gabriel said, do you think it's inhabited? Again Quasar answered Gabriel's question by pointing in the other direction towards Speed who was fading out of sight. Well then Gabriel said, I better take this news to the captain. Quasar it's been a pleasure talking with you Gabriel said jokingly, then he closed his eyes meditated on the Star and instantly he was on the far side of the star. Quasar summoned Gabriel because although he could travel at the speed of light, Gabriel could travel at the speed of thought. Speed quickly reached the outermost planet of this new solar system, for a moment he paused and stared unlike Fluence this planet did not move through space, in fact it did not move at all it just stood there motionless. Speed remembered that his only defense against being seen or captured was of course his speed. Speed began to circle the planet, around and around he went as fast as he could, finally when he saw no signs of alien existence and that this planet was not that much larger than Fluence he decided to continue on a little further and see if there were any other planets with better dwelling conditions than this one.

Back on the far side of the star, another meeting was forming, here some of the most powerful creatures in the galaxy were gathering. They were talking among themselves when cheers broke out and all eyes became fastened on the podium as the leader of this vast fighting force approached. Hydro yelled out "Hail Michael captain of the star" Michael smiled and put his hand over his chest and a slight bow of his head in gratitude, and after a few moments of applause there was silence "Brothers; first let me say thank you I am honored to be your leader, again there was a brief moment of applause, Captain Michael began by saying, "I have just been informed that a small planet has surfaced from out of the abyss in the north sector. Hydro yelled; "sir is it inhabited? "Actually big guy it is", Michael continued "and at this very moment they have a probe spying out the planets". Hydro yelled out again anxiously; "Sir shall we prepare for war?" Hydro was the leader of an elite band of fighters known as the Cosmic Four they were so fierce they could turn a planet into a meteor shower in a matter of minutes. "Now hold on big guy Michael replied first we must determine what kind of creatures inhabit this planet, this way we will know what we can expect from them. Michael continued," I will go to the unapproachable side of the planet and confer with Father Light. Then Michael turned to Hydro and said "code red" "yes sir;" Hydro replied as Michael departed. Back on Fluence there was total silence and the inhabitants were poised for conflict, Fluence and the first planet were passing parallel to each other nearly colliding, they have heard nothing yet from Speed and did not know what to expect. They were all relieved when nothing happened and the planet drifted out of sight. Meanwhile deep beneath the planet's surface, Lord Darkness was meeting with his inner circle. Havoc said "Lord Darkness, we have existed for thousands of years without this unbearable light, what will be our strategy? Darkness replied "we will give the probe a little more time, if we do not hear from him we will have to assume he has been captured by some unknown force. Make preparations to cross over to another planet, we have already passed one and I am sure there are more. One thing is certain we must stay as far away from that disgusting star as possible. Speed reached the sixth planet, he already searched out five and was about to turn back. But when he saw the sixth he stopped in utter amazement this planet was unlike any he'd ever seen before it was the most beautiful blue green, the planet looked like a gigantic jewel slowly tuning in space. Speed felt that there was something uniquely different about this planet, as if the whole solar system was built around it, so he proceeded with extreme caution. As speed drew closer to the planet he began to flutter in flight, he could not understand what was happening to him, it appeared he was no longer in space, but he also was not on the planet's surface. For Speed it was the first time he'd ever encountered a planet with an atmosphere. Unfortunate for the inhabitants of this beautiful planet that Speed did not turn back sooner. He may have never cast his lustful eyes on the planet called Earth.

CHAPTER 3 THE FAR SIDE OF PARADISE.

Back on the unapproachable side of the star, Michael stood before Father Light, "Father" Michael said as he bowed his head, "Michael peace to you Father Light replied. "Father I know that you know all things, and nothing is hidden from your eyes, therefor what is your will concerning this planet? "Michael this planet is called Fluence, it was banished into the abyss nearly six millenniums ago because of a revolt, the creatures that inhabit it became totally darkened in their hearts, and they take comfort only in darkness. Father Light continued, "Ironically; they were once themselves children of the light, like you but they erred in their minds and departed from the light even their memory has been erased. All that is left is a bunch of deranged creatures whose sole purpose is to spread mayhem wherever they go. "Michael Father Light continued their leader calls himself Lord Darkness" you do not know him but you know who he once was. Confused Michael replied "Father I do not understand", "Michael in time you will understand, in time you will see all things more clearly" Father Light assured Michael. "Go now! I want you to set up a perimeter just above the Earths border, you and your forces will intercept them there. "Father; but what about the humans"? Asked Michael. "Michael the return of Fluence is no coincidence, it has returned according to my predestined time. Father light explained "their presence will serve a purpose, mankind must be given a choice between light and darkness, if they only had light to choose from they would not be free will spirits. Father Light continued," I know you're concerned for the humans believe me so am I. You and your forces may do everything in your power to protect them, but be cautious not to interfere with their free will, as Michael backed away bowing his head he said "Father your will be done. Speed was hiding in the shadows of the sixth planet he listened to all the different creatures as the interacted and communicated with each other. He quickly learned that the highest form of intelligence was a species called man, and that they consist of males and females, Speed knew he had to take some chances, so first he came out of hiding, he was happy to learn that mankind could neither see nor sense his presence apparently he was invisible to them. Although the lower forms of life called animals could sense his presence and the would go crazy whenever he came close to them they would make all sorts of howling noise trying to warn the men who mastered over them, but their language was not understood by man so they were yelled at or struck with something. Speed decided he would take another chance to see if man could hear his voice, he knew they could not see him but he still did not know the full extent of their abilities, there were two men standing in an open field, talking among themselves, Speed said something out loud he was prepared to fly away, he watched their reaction one of them said "I just had the strangest thought", and when he told his friend what it was, his friend said "that's funny I was just thinking the exact same thing so they looked at each other and cracked up laughing as they walked away. Speed could hardly contain himself, he knew now that his kind could influence the very thoughts of men and mankind would never even know they were here. Speed didn't know how long he'd been gone from Fluence

but he knew he'd seen and heard enough and that it was time to head back. Speed took off he was hoping the inhabitants of Fluence did not cross over to one of those barren planets along the way. Back on Fluence the creatures were getting frustrated because they were all crowding to the dark side of the planet the light from the star was getting more and more uncomfortable for them. They had already passed by four planets some were very large that they could have migrated onto and they were becoming very impatient. For the second time Havoc appeared before them, with Dragon one of his generals, "I bring you a message from Lord Darkness, prepare yourselves to transfer over to the next planet". Steroid blurted out, "Well what the hell took so long to come up with that genius idea?" Now Dragon never liked Steroid and this was as good a reason as any so the two were just about to go at it when someone yelled out "look! It's Speed" when Speed touched down he was immediately brought before Lord Darkness. "Speed you little imp where have you been? And what happened to you? You look disgusting." The reason Darkness said this is because when Speed left on his journey he was blackish gray, just like all the other creatures on Fluence, but being closer to the star turned him reddish orange. Speed replied, "my Lord please forgive me, I know I've been gone a long time, and I know that four planets have passed us by, Well actually they did not pass us by because were moving and they just stand there motionless " Darkness yelled! Speed get to the point have you gone mad?" Speed replied "oh! Yes I'm sorry my lords, I beg of you, don't cross over to the next planet, Speed continued, the sixth planet into this solar system is the most beautiful planet you would ever lay your eyes on. It is inhabited by an inferior species called man, my lords they can't see us nor sense our presence, our kind can rule over them with ease. "Speed, what about the Star?" Darkness asked with concern. "My Lord that's easy, the planet is many times larger than Fluence, and it slowly turns so that only one side of the planet faces the star at a time. All we have to do is migrate into the darkness" Havoc yelled "Speed you better be right about this planet," Dragon also interjected "this planet better be everything you say it is?" finally Darkness concluded "or you're going to wish you never came back." Chapter 4 A Line Draw in Space Hydro and his squadron of fighters were in position high above the Earth, waiting to intercept Fluence. Nucleus said to Hydro, "sir I don't understand why we are waiting for them here? Why not further out in space? "Nucleus continued, "Sir the troops are worried about mankind, they are so fragile and temporal. On the Star there was one rule, "The Strong are the protectors of the weak. Hydro was just about to explain what Captain Michael told him when they heard the sound of the battle horn Fluence could be seen in the distance. Although the creatures of light glowed in the dark like tiny stars, they were able to conceal their light within themselves becoming invisible. On Fluence all the creatures were gathered together, the planet Speed had boasted so much about was in sight. This truly was the most amazing planet they'd ever seen, Darkness appeared his eyes glimmered with envy, he looked up at Speed hovering above and gave a nod of approval, at this all Fluence erupted in cheers. But those cheers were suddenly silenced by a blinding light that engulfed the planet. The creatures of darkness cringed in agony and no one moved. Finally Captain Michael shouted "stand down". The intense light began to subside, when the inhabitants of Fluence were able to see, they found themselves surrounded by a vast army. The two sides were just staring at each other each sizing the other up, there was no doubt in anyone's mind, the creatures of Fluence were clearly inferior. Captain Michael demanded, "Who is in charge here? No one responded, Michael clearly irritated; said" I will ask just once more, who is your leader?" Then from the center of the crowd "I am" yelled darkness. When Captain Michael and Lord Darkness made eye contact it gave birth to the enmity that would forever exist between the children of light and the creatures of darkness. Michael demanded;" what are your intentions in this solar system? Darkness answered, "Obviously we made a wrong turn somewhere, but our intentions are to survive, we want nothing to do with you creatures of light. Michael said, "the feelings are mutual" Then sternly looking Darkness in the eye something no one on Fluence had the courage to do Michael said with a voice of authority "we are the guardians of this solar system we will be protecting our interest in this region. Before Darkness had a chance to respond Michael and his entire army vanished leaving behind them a trail of light that lead straight towards the star. Somehow the intense light altered their appearance now even Darkness himself was bright red. And Fluence was no longer moving but was stopped dead in its tracks, and its new position could be seen in the night sky, high above Earth. As Darkness began to descend into the planet, he pointed to Speed and shouted "get down here "From earths perspective mankind was amazed at this new phenomenon in the sky, all they ever saw was the star during the day which they called their Sun and little lights at night which they called stars, some believed they would become stars when they passed on. But they had no explanation for how this new sighting got there, so they called it the Moon. Deep beneath the surface of Fluence Speed stood before the Lord Darkness, he was trembling with fear. "Speed" yelled Darkness his voice filled with anger, it appears you may have left something out of your story" "My lord I swear I never saw these other creatures". "Well then you're a blind fool" "Dragon yelled Darkness "Yes My Lord replied Dragon. Pointing at Speed Darkness commanded; "bind him and banish him to the side of Fluence that faces the star forever". Speed yelled; "My lords wait! I have a plan" "A plan? Said Darkness and what kind of plan could a fool like you have"? "My lords just give me a few moments to explain said Speed. Darkness replied "Well it appears we won't be going anywhere anytime soon, and have nothing left to lose, let's hear this Plan! "My lords while I was on the planet I observed that the humans do not exist in an eternal state as we do in fact they exist for only a few short years at the most a century then they expire. Speed continued; when they expire they have an outer shell that those who continue to exist take and lower down into the planet not far from the surface. "What does that have to do with us Darkness demanded" "well my Lord I'm getting to that you see I observed that as soon as some humans expire

a beam of light shoots up into space and becomes a tiny star from the planets perspective, millions of these stars together shine light on the planet. "I'm still not seeing what this has to do with us said Darkness". "Oh my lord I'm getting to that and here is the best part, when the others expire they become like a dark shadow that sinks into the planet and just keeps drifting down into the darkness. Darkness replied "Hamm You might just have something there they must be creatures of darkness similar to us. The more of them there are, the more powerful the darkness will become Speed interjected with a grin "And the less powerful the light will become. Darkness grabbed Speed forcefully and said "I want you to go back to the planet, and find out what it is that makes them different "and Speed as Darkness squeezed his neck "you better not fail me this time." Speed replied his voice quivering with fear and gratitude, "OH my Lord, thank you, and don't worry I won't. Since Fluence was no longer moving, and the planet was too far for the other creatures to drift over to Speed decided to carry one of them with him, when he asked who wanted to go; Ethyl leaped on his back and yelled let's go! Then off they went. The creatures had no way, or reason to measure time but by the measure of time from the human's perspective it would take them about a century to travel from Fluence to the planet.

Chapter 5 The Cavern of dark souls When Speed and Ethyl finally arrived on the planet. Speed just shook Ethyl off his back and said "stay here, "Where are you going Ethyl yelled out, but Speed plunged straight down into the planet. Speed continued straight down for what seemed like it took forever maybe it seemed to be taking so long because he was over anxious he knew this was his only chance not only to avoid eternal banishment but also to save his kind from the agony of the light. Finally Speed arrived at a very large cavern full of fire and smoke he could hardly see, but as he descended and his eyes Began to focus there they were millions of dark souls. They were crying out in agony and despair, as Speed hovered over them he was surprised one of them looking up and seeing him shouted "look! Up there, what is that"? All the souls could see him now, and they were terrified. Speed was basking in their fear, so Speed landed in the middle of them, he was enormous. Speed said to them, "Do not be afraid, I'm not here to harm you but to help you". Even though they were afraid one of them asked, "And how can you help us? There is no way out of this place". Speed reached down and picked one of them up with his claws, and said," I can carry you up out of here. Speed explained to them that there is power in numbers, and his kind were similar to them, the souls were interested but skeptical. Speed asked them, "tell me why it is when some humans expire you wind up down here, and the others go up and become tiny stars in the night sky. One soul yelled out; "and why should we tell you anything, what guarantee do we have that you will help us"? Speed replied in anger," I guarantee you this, if you don't tell me what I want to know, I will bring you to my leader, and believe me, if you are frightened by me, you don't want to see Him. Finally one of the souls began to tell Speed everything. He said "we have tried every possible way to get out of this Place, the surface of the planet we call Earth, when we were on the surface we all had just one life to live. We were products of our environment that is we had a body that was somehow created out of the Earth, dependent upon it, and eventually returned to it, those who are still on the Earth are alive, and us we are the dead. Speed asked, "Why is it some humans experience death sooner than others? The soul replied "in some cases they did not know the reason but many times certain circumstances would cause premature death, "like how asked Speed. "Like breathing in smoke from a fire, or by taking one's own life because they were depressed, there are many of them here. All they needed to do was talk to someone they trust. Speed said, "Ok what still puzzles me is why do some souls go up to the sky"? One soul who appeared to have lived a very long time on the Earth stepped forward and said, "That is the question we have ask ourselves over and over again. Not that we don't know the answer, but why we ignored it. You see the great Star in the sky we called the Sun, it is the Sun that sustains all life on Earth. The souls that went up to the Sky when they died are those who came to believe that the light was alive and that it is a life giving force that you can become a Part of when you die. They believed that there was a supreme ruler who was actually made of light and they called him Father Light, they believed if one were to pay homage to this Father Light that they would be spared from eternal darkness. Speed asked the aged soul how he knew all this, the soul replied "Because I lived on the Earth for over a century and I had a Beautiful wife her name was Jeannie, we loved each other but we Did not share the same beliefs she would go to a certain place every week and pay homage to Father Light with others who believed as she did, she tried to convert me, but I wanted none Of that stuff. Looking back I regret it now, because I had my chance to believe but I didn't take them seriously, and that's why I'm stuck down Here. And I now know it's true because Jeannie and everyone I ever met who believed in the light is not in this place. Speed said "so let me get this straight, what you are saying is That only those who come to believe in the light and pay homage To this Father Light before they die go up, and those who don't Wind up down here. "That's right said the aged soul. When Speed heard this he leaped up and headed towards the surface one of the souls yelled up "wait what about us? Speed yelled I'll come back for you, he could hardly wait to report back to

Lord Darkness. Back on the surface Ethyl was growing impatient waiting for Speed, he heard loud voices and music, curious he made his way to an open field where there was a large gathering of humans they were enjoying festivities. Ethyl knew from what Speed told him on the way that mankind was Oblivious to their presence, so he just strolled brazenly among Them, the lower forms of life that the humans mastered over sensed his presence and were going crazy, but they were told to Be quite and some were even struck, this made Ethyl ecstatic he Enjoyed any kind of violence or oppression. As Ethyl moved among them he heard two men talking about a barrel of old grape juice that had been sitting around for a long time, the one asked the other to help him dump it out, as they were Carrying it away, Ethyl said out loud "what a waist it looks fine to me. One of the men who was standing there heard Ethyl in his mind and Yelled; "stop! Don't dump that barrel it looks fine to me I want to taste it. The two men carrying the barrel didn't argue with him because he was a very large man, so they filled a cup with the old grape Juice and gave it to him. After he drank it they watched him expecting him so get sick but to their surprise he didn't in fact he loved it from the very first sip and wanted more. The man was enjoying the old grape juice and starting to have So much fun that all the men started drinking it. After a while the men started acting crazy. It was obvious the old grape juice was having an effect on them, but they didn't care, the women were disgusted with their husbands they called them idiots, took their children and left. Again Ethyl was delighted because the men were acting crazy and Chaotic, there was a large camp fire burning and with the men Not in their right minds Ethyl suggested they see who was brave Enough to run through the fire, to Ethyl's surprise as soon as The first man ran through the fire the rest followed, most were Still holding onto their drink, they could hardly stand up but They just kept lining up and some just walked through the fire. Suddenly one of the men tripped and fell face down into the fire by the time they lifted him up he was badly burned, then they realized how crazy they were acting and stopped running through the fire, but they kept on drinking. Ethyl was amazed at how easily men could be influenced to do Crazy things to themselves, especially when they drank the old grape juice. Ethyl felt he was the one responsible for the creation of this mysterious concoction and wanted credit, he heard them asking "What shall we call this stuff? So he said out loud "Call it Ethyl juice. Now the man who fell into the fire was sitting there complaining about his pain, the man who started drinking first said to him "Stop whining. They all started laughing and one of them said "Hey let's call it wine, again they all started laughing and handed the man who was in pain a cup and said, "have some more wine. Ethyl was furious and vowed to get credit someday, Ethyl made his way back to where Speed left him just in time, Speed surfaced and yelled "get on, Ethyl leaped onto his back and up they went. About half way up they began to fall back down, Speed didn't possess the ability to break away from Earth's gravity carrying Ethyl, and so for a second time he shook Ethyl off his back. As Ethyl fell back towards Earth Speed yelled back jokingly, do start some trouble and he sped off laughing. Chapter 6 the Best Offence, Is A Good Defense. Captain Michael and his forces were back on the far side of the Sun. He dispatched the Cosmic Four to guard the four corners of the Earth they were only there to stop a full scale invasion, which meant they would have to allow the creatures of Fluence to come and go as long as they were small in number. The star fighters were perplexed with this strategy, but they all agreed that Captain Michael must have a good reason to choose defense rather than offence, so they took up their positions, Hydro took the North sector, Nucleus the South, Nitro the East, And Atomic the West. While Captain Michael was working on his plan, he pondered in his heart what Father Light said about Lord Darkness suddenly a name came to his mind, Lucent, then Michael remembered the Ancient stories. Long ago while Farther Light was forming the outer Galaxy's Lucent led a revolt, he held a very high position but his ego became his downfall, he managed to amass a large number of Star creatures to join him, but their sinister plan was discovered and they were exiled to a small planet and banished into the abyss. Michael learned of this but it was so long ago that he simply forgot, but now he realized that Lord Darkness was at one time The Great Lucent. Michael closed his eyes and summoned Gabriel who immediately appeared before him, Gabriel said "Sir Peace to you, "and also to you Michael replied. Michael said "do you remember the stories of Lucent? Gabriel replied "I'm sorry sir but I don't remember I was created a few millenniums after you. Michael said, "of course I forgot that explains why you can run circles around me, the two laughed and began looking into the ancient scrolls, they wanted to find out everything they could about Lucent. Michael explained to Gabriel that in order to win this battle Instead of a first strike offense, this battle was going to rely on a cleverly devised defense. So they came up with a plan, Gabriel would travel into Earths Future, to find a certain man he would show this man everything they knew about Fluence and the creatures of Darkness. Their goal was to build an army of enlightened people who could expose the forces of Darkness and save mankind from annihilation. Speed arrived back on Fluence and plunged right into the planet he had a sinister grin on his face as he strutted into the den of Darkness. "Speed Darkness said, as he cringed I don't know what it is, but I got this Eerie feeling when you walked in it's the same feeling I had when those damn light creatures were here. Darkness concluded that it must be because Speed was even more radiant then before. Havoc said "Speed you better have some good news to go along with that stupid smirk on your face. "OH that I do replied Speed, "my Lords as I told you before the humans are fragile, and in fact their lives are a damn near a waste of time, now! Here's the difference between those who are like us and those who resemble the light creatures. If a human does not come to believe in the one they call Father Light who dwells on the Star which they call their Sun before they die, they sink into a large abyss in the center of their planet which they call Earth forever! "And my Lord it gets even better, the humans are all products of the elements that make up their world. All we have to do is figure out a way to use the elements of their own environment to shorten their lives. Speed was studying Darkness for any facial reaction but there was none. Finally Havoc spoke up, "my Lord he may have a point there, what interest would the creatures of the Sun have in the Earth if man were extinct? And after all they would be doing it to their Selves. After a brief pause Darkness had the same sinister expression on his face that Speed had earlier. "Speed Darkness replied it seems you have redeemed yourself, I want you to take as many of your peers to the Earth as possible give them this order. They are to find as many ways as possible to destroy mankind I don't care how long it takes, when they are extinct, the creatures of the sun will stop bothering us, after all why fight over a barren planet. "My Lord said Speed when will you be coming to the Earth? Darkness replied "Not until it's barren, at this time I will have an image of myself erected, when you look from Earth and see the fullness of the image it will be a sign to cause as much death And destruction as possible before the sun rises, we will have the humans believe in superstitions, they will blame it on the Full moon. Everyone in the lair of Darkness broke out in sinister laughter, Speed bowed and slowly backed out of their presence. Speed chose Cannabis and Tar to bring with him, he was Loving this, never before did he feel this important, he would be the one to shuttle his species to their new world, it would take century's to get them all there but time was on their side. Chapter 7 The Earth Divided Ethyl kept himself busy, he was so influential in mankind's consumption of wine that the people of Earth were divided over this habit. The people who drank were getting drunk and causing all kinds of trouble and rioting, they came to be known as the people of darkness they started to enjoy being out all night, and they no longer lived normal lives, all their relationships began to suffer. The people who loved the day stayed busy building homes, and city's they organized government's, it came to pass that war broke out. The people of the day were on one side of hill and the people of the night on the other there was a valley in between them, they were yelling at each other, saying how they hated the way the other half lived. Finally someone from the dark side shot an arrow into the air, and it struck a child of the day in the chest, he was mortally wounded, and the fighting began. The battle went on for hours, the fighting was so fierce that many men died on both sides. The Sun began to go down in the Western sky this became a huge disadvantage for the people of the day because they were not use to being out after dark, Ethyl started cheering he was hiding in the shadows to avoid the light, the people of the night were winning. But unbeknown to Ethyl the Cosmic Four were watching, and decided to help the children of the day out a little. Together they braced themselves against the large mountains causing the earth to stand still and thereby stopping the Sun from setting. Even though they were very large creatures no one could see them, and the battle raged on, they continued to hold the Earth still for about a day allowing the people of the day to gain the upper hand, finally when Hydro saw that there were only a few hundred People of the night left against thousands of people of the day they let the mountains go and the Earth started rotating again. But this act caused the foundations of the Earth to weaken and a large Earth quake occurred, as a result the land mass cracked into sections and began to drift apart. This drew cheers from both sides because the people of the day were stuck on one land mass and the people of the night on another so they figured they were rid of each other for good. The Cosmic Four just looked at each other finally Atomic said "I didn't see that coming they all started laughing and each one headed back to their post. Ethyl was stuck on the side with the people of the light, this was not the side he wanted to be on because he enjoyed the chaos but he surmised the people of darkness were already infected with what he called the self-destruct virus. He looked at the people of light and they seemed to be paying homage to the one they call Father Light. He vowed "I will destroy you all no matter how long it takes. Mankind lived for hundreds of years in darkness, not the absence of visual light but of mental illumination they did not understand anything about their world, or themselves, and they were cruel to each other, this time would later be known as the dark ages. Speed arrived back at the Earth with Cannabis and Tar he could hardly believe his eyes for a moment he thought he was on the wrong planet upon their decent Speed noticed that the surface which was once one large land mass was now divided into several different sections drifting apart and by now there were great Distances between them. Which one was Ethyl on? Well it didn't really matter thought Speed so he dropped Cannabis on one and Tar on another, he told them he would be back with help and charged them both to kill and destroy.

Chapter 8 Riding the Light It was time for Gabriel to put their plan into action, he was told by Captain Michael two things, first to be as inconspicuous as possible and second who to look for, The man he was looking for had a name that meant peaceful but for evermore he would be called Sent. Gabriel chose a point in time when all the planets were in alignment, the alignment of the planets was crucial it would act as a diversion and allow for Gabriel to carry Sent back through time without the creatures of Darkness who by this time were all over the planet to notice them. Gabriel entered the atmosphere of Earth at high noon the light from the sun was at its brightest, even though Gabriel could travel at the speed of thought he did not know exactly where sent was. He would have to quickly pause in space and look for a tiny glow from sent. Father light told Michael Sent was born with a seed of light inside him that would lay dormant until the day he became enlightened.

Gabriel was also told Sent would be living in the continental United States, in a small town in New Jersey. So far the plan was going perfectly, by this point in time the divided land masses were stationary thousands of miles apart. The world population was in the billions, Ethyl had done a great job being a bad influence, men created hundreds of different brands and flavors of alcoholic beverages. The poison was so tasty it was like giving candy to a child. And sure enough Ethyl got his credit for it, they called the poison Ethyl Alcohol. Many of the creatures of Fluence were on the Earth

By now, they made great progress in their quest to destroy man from the Earth. Cannabis was responsible for the introduction and manufacturing of the Hemp plant also known as pot Tar took credit for developing tobacco, these two poisons are inhaled. Steroid managed to not only have his chemical named after him but ironically those who used it became egotistical maniacs just like him. Then there was Speed a late bloomer but after all he did have to carry everyone to the Earth. But he too was responsible for a chemical they call it speed also known as amphetamines.

These and many other chemicals also known as drugs were being used to cause mass genocide. The sad part was mankind didn't even know that there were aliens among them wooing them to death. Gabriel found the man Sent unconscious in his car, even though Sent loved the light he thought it harmless to drink and smoke, he'd consumed so much alcohol he was near death. Time was of the essence Gabriel would have to act fast if his mission was to go undetected. Sent was still under the effects of the alcohol he would have to be taken out of his body in order to see the realm of the invisible. But in the meantime his body needed care, so Gabriel yelled out Someone call an ambulance, a neighbor of Sent named Don looked out his window and although he didn't see who yelled, he saw Sent slumped over the steering wheel so he called 911 Gabriel took hold of Sent by his soul and off they went, Their first stop was the Black Hole when Fluence first appeared they were there in the blink of an eye. Sent didn't know what to think, was this a dream? He looked up at Gabriel, he'd never seen anything like him before. Gabriel spoke first "I guess you're a little confused Gabriel said don't be afraid and he addressed him by his birth name, Sent was shocked and asked how do you know my name? And what are you? I am Gabriel the herald from the Planet you call the Sun I don't have time to explain please watch and listen you are going to see and hear things no other human ever has. Many lives depend on you, on me! Yes on you Gabriel replied. Silence they're coming whose coming asked Sent. Gabriel covered Sent's mouth and hid him behind an invisible cloak just in time Fluence was just a few hundred yards away, as they watched they could see the creatures of Fluence arguing with each other, and the Lord of Darkness appeared they heard him give the order to send a probe on before them and bring back a report, Sent slowly removed

Gabriel's hand from his mouth he assured Gabriel by eye contact and hand gesture that he would be quite, Sent was amazed this seemed to real to be a dream, as he was peering over the cloak it appeared as if Darkness was looking straight at them so he ducked back down. Gabriel took hold of Sent closed his eyes and said "to Quasar and instantly they were at a place where Sent could see Gabriel and Quasar talking and yet Gabriel was also standing beside him. Then Sent understood that he was being taken back in time and shown chronological events of the past events that happened in the extraterrestrial realm far out in space. He heard Gabriel ask Quasar "is it inhabited? Quasar pointed and there was Speed fading out of sight, Sent looked up at Gabriel he had his eyes closed again and said "to the Star, instantly they were on the far side of the Sun, Sent was awestruck this was the most beautiful and bright place he'd ever seen. They were at the rear of a large gathering, here stood some of the most powerful looking creatures imaginable, suddenly the assembly started cheering Gabriel turned to Sent and said that's Captain Michael, Sent was shocked that Gabriel spoke out loud Gabriel sensing his confusing explained . Don't be afraid Sent this is your home and we are all your brothers. Sent listened as Michael told them about Fluence, after Michael's speech Gabriel told Sent we have one more stop and then "I have to take you deep into the enemies lair you will have to be extremely quiet, Sent said I understand but before we go what do you call this place? Gabriel replied well the side of the planet that faces the earth to provide heat and light we call Luminous that is where Father Light dwells. And this side, well we call this side Paradise. Oh! and let's do one more thing before we go Gabriel yelled out hey everyone say hi Sent was speechless as the whole assembly turned around and a few of these massive creatures started saying hi to him as if they knew him forever Hydro said what's up Sent? Atomic yelled hey! Sent glad you made it man!! Nucleus said "we got you back Sent, Most of them just waved and smiled as they departed one thing was certain, these creatures were all for one and one for all, and Sent felt like one of them. Gabriel closed his eyes to the battle line. They were above Fluence hiding behind the cloak Earth was in the distance all the creatures of Fluence were gathered the Lord of Darkness among them they were cheering and steering at the Earth like a bunch of cosmic pirates, they were a hideous lot. Suddenly the planet was engulfed with light it was so intense the creatures were blinded, after a short time Sent heard a familiar voice shout "stand down it was Captain Michael as the light subsided Fluence was surrounded by the forces of the Sun. From behind the cloak of invisibility Sent was trying to memorize everything he heard, when the confrontation was over and the fighters of the Sun were gone Gabriel covered Sent completely with the cloak and said listen carefully and Sent heard Gabriel whisper "To the lair of Darkness. Gabriel and Sent were in the den of Darkness just as Speed entered with a sinister smirk on his face, they listened as the rulers of Fluence devised a sinister plan to destroy mankind from the Earth using the very elements of their world against them. Sent realized that the Planet Fluence has become Earth's Moon. Sent didn't hear Gabriel say anything but the next thing he knew they were in a vast dark chasm and Speed was gathering information from those that were trapped there. Suddenly they were back on the surface, they were overlooking a battle when all of a sudden the Earth started to turn again and there was a huge Earthquake and the land mass cracked apart into different sections Sent realized that this must be how the continents were formed. Gabriel turned to Sent and said my friend the rest of the story is recorded in your history. Its time I take you back use this information to enlighten others the fate of mankind is in your hands. Sent said to Gabriel "but I am only one man what can I do. Gabriel replied there will be those who will heed your warning and those who will resist the truth be strong and courageous, the forces of darkness will be all around you but the forces of the Sun will all around them. Gabriel looked Sent sternly in the eye and said remember these two things, one you can't destroy this enemy you can only disarm them, their only weapons are mind altering body destroying substances if they are not ingested, injected, or inhaled then the creatures of darkness will be powerless and mankind will win. "Sent Father Light wishes for all men and woman to become children of the light. Some like yourself have strayed into the darkness but when presented with the light they will convert back because the seed of the light is imbedded deep within them. Sent back in your time the dark ages are over Father Light has opened the doors of knowledge in the minds of men. Mankind will be experiencing technological breakthroughs within the next century that will make life on Earth very different.

Your job is to teach people to be wise and just say No! To these creatures and their drugs. Sent looked into Gabriel's eyes with sincere appreciation and said "thanks for everything I will do all I can to expose these murders. Gabriel closed his eyes and said back to the future. Sent woke up in his car stinking of alcohol and cigarettes, an ambulance was just arriving, Sent convinced them that he was ok so they left. Sent thought what a crazy dream but what if it wasn't a dream in all his life he never remembered a dream so clearly he had faces and voices flashing through his mind he knew each personality. Every other time he'd gotten drunk he would wake up remembering nothing. His heart was racing a mile a minute his head was pounding he had to get something to drink. Sent walked into the corner store grabbed a bottle of water and started drinking it as he walked towards the counter, at the counter there was a man who was ordering cigarettes, Sent's first thought was if he needed a pack but to his horror he could see behind the clerk was the creature Tar laughing but no one else could see him, Sent lowered his head and without looking at the clerk put ten dollars on the counter Sent was waiting for his change when he heard Tar say "don't forget your smokes almost instantly the clerk threw a pack of smokes on the counter and echoed "don't forget your but before he could finish Sent said "no thanks I quit Tar stopped laughing "you quit then the clerk said "you quit when? You just bought a pack yesterday. Sent remembered he had a half pack of cigarettes in his shirt pocket so he took them out and while crumbling them up looked straight at Tar and said I quit right now while throwing them in the trash, as Sent walked out of the store he heard Tar say "he'll smoke again so he knew exactly what the clerk was thinking. Sent was dumbfounded it was all true and it didn't take long to confirm as he walked to his house he looked across the street. the local pub door was open even though it was only mid-day the bar was packed and there he was among the drunks laughing and talking into their minds, Ethyl; and in the side alley a few men were smoking weed and Cannabis was right there. As Sent was standing there watching he could not believe his eyes two men were leaving the bar and started heading in different directions Ethyl looked at both of them as if to decide which one to go with and then suddenly he somehow cloned himself and followed both of them. Sent realized the creatures of darkness have grown stronger and developed new abilities possibly having something to do with Earth's atmosphere. All Sent could think of was "We are going to need help.

CHAPTER 9 THEY CALL ME SENT "My name is Sent and this my story I almost died once from alcohol and drugs I was taking by a creature named Gabriel on an unusual journey to the far reaches of our solar system. I was shown kingdoms that exist in the extraterrestrial realm, and given a second chance at life. Mankind has always asked the question "Are we alone in the universe. Our quest for answers causes us to constantly search out the galaxy with manned and unmanned space ships, and listening for radio waves hoping to hear something to prove there is extraterrestrial life out there. But the truth is they have already found us. Let me start by saying the human race is at war with an enemy that cannot be seen because the creatures are invisible, so like the wind that cannot be seen you have to look for the evidence the destruction left in the wake of a passing tornado cannot be denied neither can presence of these creatures . It's hard to fight an enemy we can't see, or is it? To be good soldiers we must know our enemy. You can be sure they know us. They know our every weakness and how to exploit them. But there is hope because we also have friends in the invisible realm and their presence also cannot be denied. At first when I was returned to my body I became discouraged the creatures of darkness were everywhere, but where were the creatures of the light? Then one night as I stood on my front porch I could see the police were chasing a car over a small bridge and they were heading straight up my block, the woman who lived next door to me was pulling out of her driveway with her children in the car and she was pregnant, the car chase was heading straight at them, there was going to be a collision. As the cars drew closer I could see Ethyl in the back seat laughing it up I looked up in the night sky and all of a sudden I saw Electron, like a bolt of lightning he hit a telephone pole rode along the wire and dove straight into the car's hood of the lady backing out of her driveway shorting out her electrical system, she stalled in her driveway and the cars sped right by, in my excitement I yelled yes! Ethyl looked up at me with a confused expression on his face they still didn't know that I could see them. The police caught the driver he was very drunk ironically he was the husband and father of the family in the car that Electron disabled. If it were not for the intervention of Electron the outcome could have been fatal. I spoke with the man when he sobered up I told him what I saw, he believed and has not taken a drink since. I am sending out an SOS (Save our souls) to the world, the enemy has infiltrated almost every family in the world in one form or another they are using drugs to kill us off one by one. History is full of traitors and I guess our present day situation is no different, the creatures of Fluence have managed to amass a slew of government leaders who are on their payroll these high ranking men are protecting the companies that manufacture these drugs and even offering them tax incentives all in the name of the mighty dollar. Not caring that they are killing millions of their fellow humans. I guess these men figure they won't be here forever so live high while you can. As I was trying to get this word out I sent numerous copies hoping to find a publishing company not on the creatures payroll but I guess I sent it to one who was because as I was sitting at my computer I saw a cascade of federal cars coming down my road, I escaped into the woods and have been on the run since. I'm not sure what they had planned for me maybe a padded cell somewhere in the middle of the nowhere one thing is certain until I can get this information into the hands of the chosen I will be hunted like an animal. This war on drugs will be fought in every human heart and mind.

These aliens are determined to see man extinct. The question is Can we stop the drugs from being manufactured in the world? The answer is no! Because this is Earth not Paradise and there will always be those who want to use them and those who profit in their use, but it wouldn't matter if so much cocaine piled up outside it looked like four feet of snow if a person don't inhale it than it can't hurt them. Many of these drugs are legal and easy to obtain and the voices of darkness are constantly telling us to try them, just say NO! I am seeking men and women of all ages to join it the fight against these aliens, I have a twofold strategy first to be a soldier of the light you must not give in to the influence of these creatures and use any of their drugs. Second you must do everything in your power to help those who are addicted to these chemicals to break free. It is only the truth that will set men free, to those of you who have joined the fight welcome! I will start your training by profiling a few of these deadly creatures we are up against. 1st there is Ethyl (Aliases) Alcohol, Spirits, Booze, and there are a few others, I consider him one of the worst enemies we face, he uses alcohol to bring chaos into this world, under his influence a person can become so intoxicated that although their body seems functional there is a split second in time when the persons mind falls asleep and Ethyl steps in and takes over their thinking if a person is lucky enough to wake up after a night of heavy drinking they are usually in trouble and don't even remember why, their memory is blank because they were actually unconscious and Ethyl was steering the ship. Ethyl is responsible for millions deaths and ruined lives.

2nd profile is that of Tar (Aliases) Tobacco, Smokes, Chew, he starts on our youth he is responsible for the creation of tobacco he could care less weather you smoke it chew it or just let it sit in your mouth as long as it causes cancer in the user. 3rd we have Cannabis (Aliases) Marijuana, Grass, Pot Weed, he is the creator of the hemp plant, Cannabis enters our world when the user inhales it at first the user becomes tranquil but then paranoia is experienced and as a result many have committed suicide. 4th we have Speed, (Aliases) Methamphetamine, Heroin, and just like Speed the drug works very fast, it is harder to get but very addictive. 5th we have Steroid, (Aliases) Juice, Anabolic, his drug is popular among weight lifters and athletes ironically most who use this drug have even developed an ego just like Steroid himself, the ill effects of this drug include heart attacks deformities, and acts of aggression even suicide. CHAPTER 10 LOOKING TO THE STARS FOR HELP There are many more of these creatures but these five have become the most active in our world and they have learned to clone themselves, these creatures are mass murderers, mankind is oblivious to their existence, three out of the five have managed to get their drugs legalized, and the rest are working relentlessly on getting theirs legal also. The amazing thing is that huge companies owned by men who are making millions of dollars. Are working for these creatures and don't even know it.

The thought of these creatures being able to clone themselves was overwhelming to me I thought how am I going to convert enough soldiers to deal with them. Gabriel must have sensed my concerns because one day as I was thinking on these things suddenly there appeared a light brighter than the noon day sun I was blinded by it but I knew that voice, it was Gabriel I never see him this bright "Greetings Sent sorry for my appearance Gabriel said jokingly but I've just come from before the Father of light it's good to see you again, I was glad to see him too when he finally dimmed down enough for me to focus. Gabriel I said I am worried Ethyl, Tar, Cannabis the rest of the frightening lot are cloning themselves did you know they could do this? Gabriel replied we were not sure what abilities they would develop once they became familiar with Earth's atmosphere but we have a plan for that I said half-jokingly but mostly out of worry and would you mind telling me what that is? "Not at all replied Gabriel that's why I'm here. Gabriel said "well I have some good news and some not so good news, first the not so good news the creature Speed has begun bringing back to the surface thousands of lost souls, these souls can care less about those still alive so they have eagerly teamed up with the creatures of darkness, it appears they have been given the task of causing fear in people after the creatures of darkness drug them up these souls use fear tactics, fear shortens man's life people are overwhelmed with the voices in the head and they pretend to be ghost besides their bed. But now the good news, Gabriel continued Sent the star fighters are always on duty watching over the Earth as a matter of fact Hydro just deflected a large Meteor that was about to hit Earth head on, sending it streaking over Russia. We can handle the big things but the battle of the trenches needs to be fought by the foot soldier. Gabriel said "do you see the stars in the night sky I replied of course, he said do you know what they are? I said I heard they were planets on fire like the Sun only millions and millions of miles away. Gabriel replied well that's just an illusion they are really not that far away at all in fact they are closer than the planet Fluence, Gabriel continued you see Sent these tiny stars are actually thrones, and seated on those thrones are all those who have lived on the Earth and believe in the light, they sit there looking down on the Earth, waiting for the day that the last person on Earth who converts to the light leaves. Then they will all march into paradise together. I was in awe, there must be trillions of them. I asked Gabriel but how can they help us if they have already left Earth? Gabriel replied with such an expression of pride I had goose bumps all over me. He said these souls have volunteered to come back to the Earth, they will follow each and every man woman and teenager, whenever a creature from Fluence or one of these lost souls makes a suggestion to take drugs or to harm themselves. These souls will simply talk to each other and discuss an alternative to using. The person will hear all these voices and be able to make their own decision on which one to listen to. I asked Gabriel what he meant they will talk to each other. And Gabriel smiled and said there will be two or three of these honorable souls to every one creature of darkness we will always outnumber them. I asked Gabriel when this will happen. He replied Sent your belief has put a shield around you and the truth is like a sword in your hand. Tonight look up at the Stars and you will receive a new sense of Hope. Sent never lose Hope in the Light, Hope will carry you through this battle. When Gabriel left I could hardly wait for the sun to go down my heart was racing a mile a minute the hours seemed to go by like years, finally the hour came the night sky was as clear as glass there was not an inch of sky that did not have a star in it. As I stared up suddenly the Stars all looked like they had strings coming out of them and they descend towards the Earth like spiders descending on a web. As they drew closer they looked like a billion Paratroopers filling the sky, and they continued downward till they reached the ground, they looked just like everyone else only they glowed. I was amazed that a few of them looked straight at me and some even waved apparently they knew I could see them and who I was, then they just stated following people two or three each they were whispering to each other I guess so the person they assigned themselves to would not hear them, they were even laughing among themselves. I could tell just by seeing them that they were delighted to be here helping us. Gabriel was right I felt more Hope than I've ever felt before. I asked Gabriel before he left "Where did we come from? Gabriel said Father light created the creatures on the Sun thousands of years ago and he also created all life on Earth but we have only been here a few thousand years, I asked why are we being attacked? He said "freely we have been given life but to live life freely sometimes you have to fight.

CHAPTER 11 THE EYES OF YOUR UNDERSTANDING There is no argument that knowledge is power. Gabriel said it is only the truth that would set men free. I had to figure out a way to reveal how the creatures of darkness were responsible for millions of deaths and destroyed lives, I decided the best evidence is to chase the tragic drug related stories from all around the world like those who chase storms or those who hunt ghost. Then I would shine the light of understanding on these events exposing the role these creatures played in them. I will not use the names of any of the victims only the circumstances surrounding their tragic event it is my hope that all who read this book would embrace the light, and join in the fight against these creatures of doom. With your minds eyes come with me to a small race track the cars a speeding around the track again and again. But suddenly as two cars are side by side look there in one of them you can see Cannabis, he is distracting the driver and the driver slams into a fence. The driver is not thinking straight and he gets out of his car and starts walking on the track. Most of the other drivers are slowing down except one could it be this driver does not see him walking towards him? Or is he trying to intimidate him? And then a tragedy happens, the driver walking on the track is struck buy the other drivers car and killed. No one saw Cannabis in the car but a few weeks later test reviled Marijuana was involved, you see people cannot see these creatures with their naked eye, but they can see their finger prints that they leave behind. Our next stop is Cincinnati it is Oktoberfest people are enjoying the crisp air and the delicious food, everyone is having a great time, and Ethyl is also in the crowd so is Tar and Cannabis. The honorable souls who have come down to help are also there and they are doing a fine job leading most away from Ethyl's direction. But there is one guy who is determined to make Ethyl his best friend. Ethyl is eating up the attention they are laughing it up strolling along this guy is heading for trouble the way he is pounding those beers down. Then it happened in the blink of an eye the guy's head dropped he was unconscious Ethyl jumped inside the man's body and possessed him, then ethyl maneuvered the man's body into his car and started driving into the crowd everyone started yelling get out of the way, even the honored souls were yelling, then I saw in the corner of my eye Quasar he went right by me and like a flash of light from a pilloried camera he blinded two or three individuals who were about to step in front of the speeding car, even though over two dozen people were hurt no one lost their life. When the car came to a stop Ethyl just left the guy to answer for his actions, he was sent to prison lucky for him no one died or he himself may have died in prison. Someone once said that a

"pound of prevention is worth a ton of cure" As we look at the circumstances surrounding these tragedy's we need to arm ourselves with knowledge and share this knowledge with the world.

The stories get worse, as you see what these creatures are doing to our fellow human beings it will compel you to fight. This should be our moto to "help those who are weak and free those who are bound, These Creatures have the world convinced Drugs are our friends but they are our mortal enemy. We are standing at interstate 275 in Florida it is the wee morning hours and coming south on the North bound lane is a small car with three passengers and Ethyl, they are oblivious to the fact that they are going the wrong way. Coming straight at them is a tanker truck, there is a head on collision the driver of the truck is not injured but all three occupants of the small car are dead. The headlines read Alcohol was a factor, Flash back and on the same highway again in the early morning hours another driver has been hanging out with Ethyl and Cannabis, all night and now they are driving down the wrong way a few other drivers have been following this driver for about four minutes and then the unthinkable happens, Ethyl is driving the car and he slams into a car carrying four passengers, college students in the prime of their lives, killing all of them, later test show the driver had alcohol and marijuana in his system, you see they can see that these creatures as the influence that caused these people to do these terrible acts of insanity but they can't catch the creatures or see them. they can only see the destruction and human carnage let in their wake. The creatures of darkness attack us from the womb to the grave, stillbirth is the death of a fetus and it could happen for some unknown reason. To these poor mothers expecting to welcome into this world their little bundle of joy my deepest sympathy, but there are times it has been attributed to Ethyl, Tar, or Speed, these creatures should not be allowed near our most precious possession but some mothers are addicted to their company and invite them in. They are killing babies in the womb. And they don't stop chasing us till we are in the grave come with me to South Indonesia to a small town look over there and you won't believe your eyes, a little boy only two years old and he is sitting on the couch with Tar this little boy is smoking forty cigarettes a day, why aren't his parents protecting him against Tar? Because they are under his influence also. Teens are using drugs more than ever before, they are dying at an alarming rate the tragic stories are endless, let's look at one more We are in Russia two teens are drinking with Ethyl and Ethyl suggest they hurt a homeless man even though the honorable souls were pleading for the man these two listened to Ethyl they cut off the man's head and were so intoxicated they played soccer with it. We must convince our youth to stop allowing these creatures of darkness into their lives. I guess you can call this the never ending battle for planet Earth. But unlike a Hollywood movie where aliens descend in space ships and lasers attempting to take over the world or lowering us a notch on the food chain, these aliens have been here almost from the beginning of time. Let us take a moment to reflect on some of the many people who found fame and then lost their lives to these creatures, these are people who entertained us and we felt we knew them but the reality is we only knew the characters they portrayed, still we felt a loss in our spirits when they left us so young, Michael Jackson, Amy Whitehouse, Heath Ledger, Jimi Hendrix, Jim Morrison, Elvis Presley, Anna Nicole Smith, Brittany Murphy, Marilyn Monroe, River Phoenix, Judy Garland, John Belushi, Whitey Houston, These are just a few, there are many more. Lyle Alzado was a lineman for the Los Angeles Raiders Lyle was 43 years old when his life ended. Lyle was a beast on the football field and an actor who played in a number of films. Before Lyle passed on he decided to tell the world of his involvement with Steroid, at first he said he did not associate with him. But Lyle saw the light and did not want to see other young men deceived by this creature. Lyle admitted he and Steroid were involved since college and he became so addicted to steroids drug that it was now costing him his life. The list of popular people and those in the public eye who have died at the hands of these creatures is staggering and I am sure we all know someone who has also died as a result of befriending them, it is time for this world to wake up out of the slumber of ignorance and take up arms against them. It is estimated between two to five million people are dying from drugs each year either by taking drugs or drug related accidents. Then there are those dying to keep them from being used, those dying fighting over their sales, their dying from illegal drugs and their dying from prescription drugs. Drugs are the weapons the creatures of darkness have devised to kill mankind, its true the creatures of darkness are all around us, but we are not alone the creatures of the Light are all around us also. If you are reading this consider yourself among the chosen, you are chosen by Father Light to carry this message of Hope to those all around you. Some may say I just don't have the power to break free from these drugs, tell them to call out to Father Light. He will shine his unique form of light upon them and they will receive the power they need to defeat these habits and live above their Influence. There is also help out there groups have formed to lend support to each other they go by code names like AA and NA.

CHAPTER 12 SENT'S STORY I often think why was I chosen to tell this story? And I come up with a twofold answer first it shows that Father Light extends a second chance at life to those who have walked with these creatures, and the second reason is I know these creatures, they were my friends. I was seven years old when my older brother introduced me to Tar I loved him from my first puff. I would get caught smoking and be punished but it did not stop me from hanging out with him as soon as I could. Although I saw my parents entertain Ethyl and Tar all the time I did not associate with Ethyl till I was twelve and I loved hanging out with him too. At thirteen I also was introduced to Cannabis and inhalants, I lived to get high with my friends. But there was also a part of me that always believed in the light, and looking back I know the creatures of light were watching out for me my whole life.

Today I am drug free and I am determined to help others break free from these creatures. You might ask how we know if we are winning the war. The answer is simple for every one you help turn away from drugs a life will be saved and we win. Every day you tell these creatures NO! You won't use, you remain six feet above the ground and we win. Let us carry this message of Hope to our world. And remember "Walk in the light and you will not fall victims of the Darkness. Sent.
